WHY DO YOU SIGH?

SONG

Poem by

F. R. HARVEY

Author of "Day Before" and "I Hope Your Cellar Never Grows Dry."

Music by

R. A. BROWNE

50

SEDALIA, MO.:
Published by A. W. PERRY'S SONS, Music Publishers.

Why Do You Sigh?

SONG

Poem by F. R. HARVEY

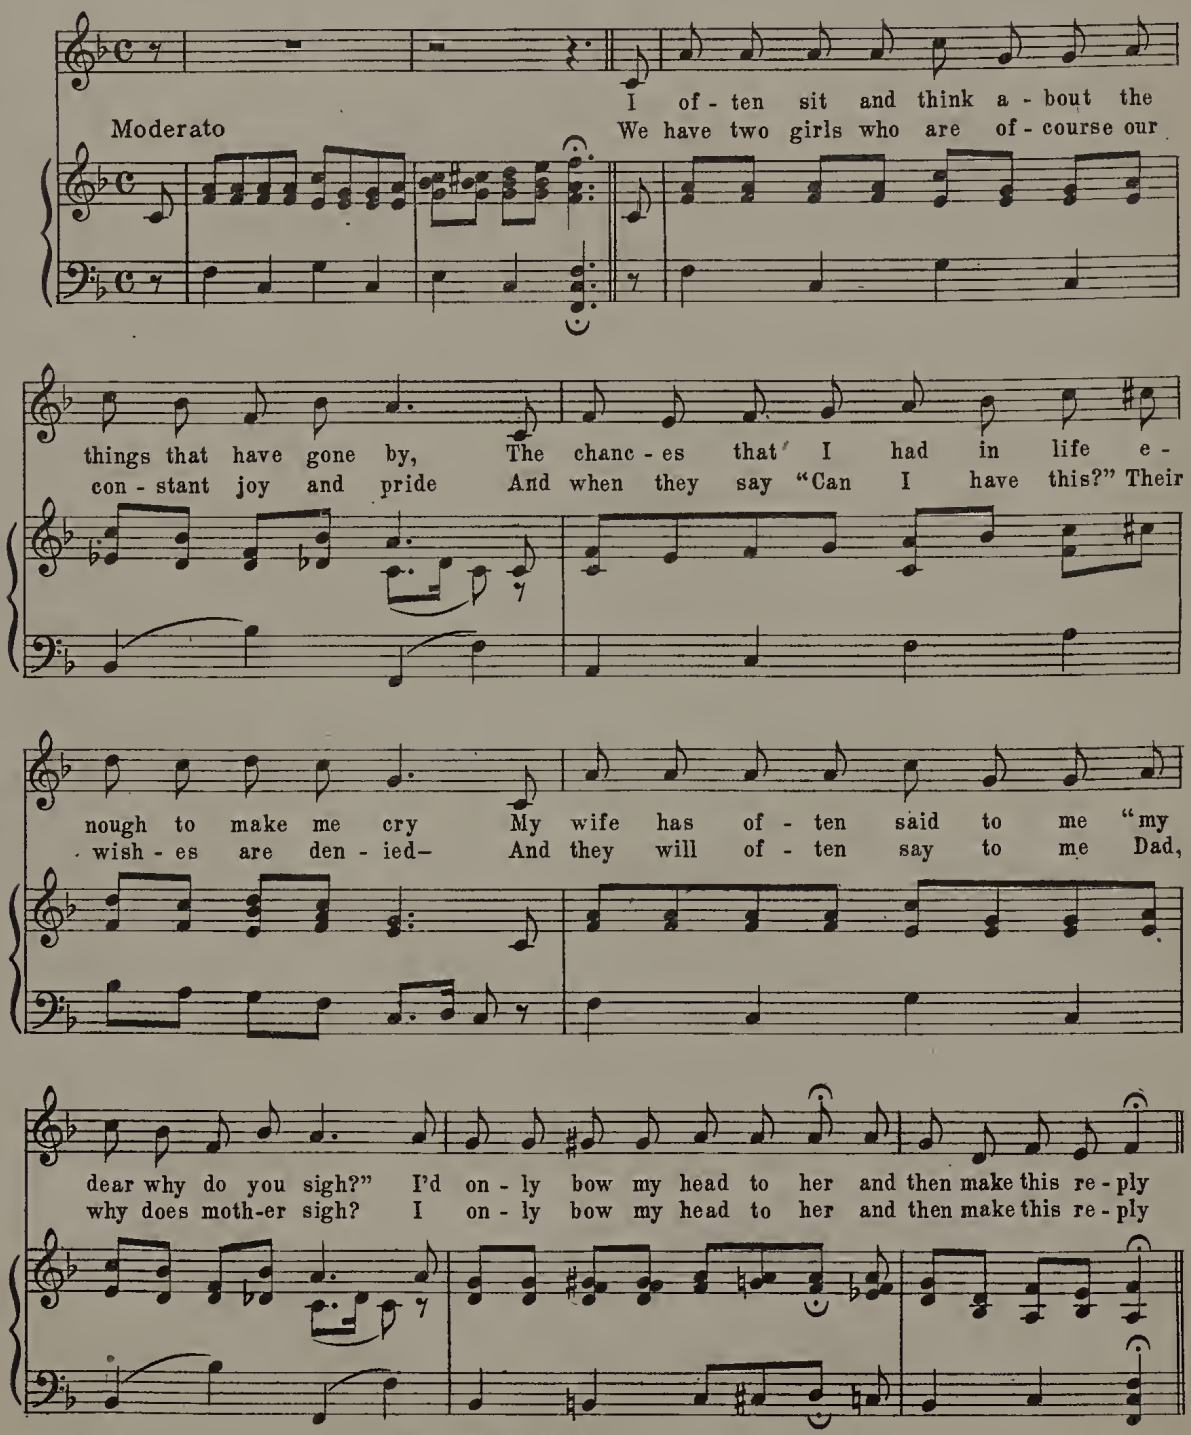
Music by
R. A. BROWNE



Moderato
I of - ten sit and think a - bout the
We have two girls who are of - course our things that have gone by, The chanc - es that I had in life e - con - stant joy and pride And when they say "Can I have this?" Their nough to make me cry My wife has of - ten said to me "my wish - es are den - ied– And they will of - ten say to me Dad, dear why do you sigh?" I'd on - ly bow my head to her and then make this re - ply why does moth-er sigh? I on - ly bow my head to her and then make this re - ply

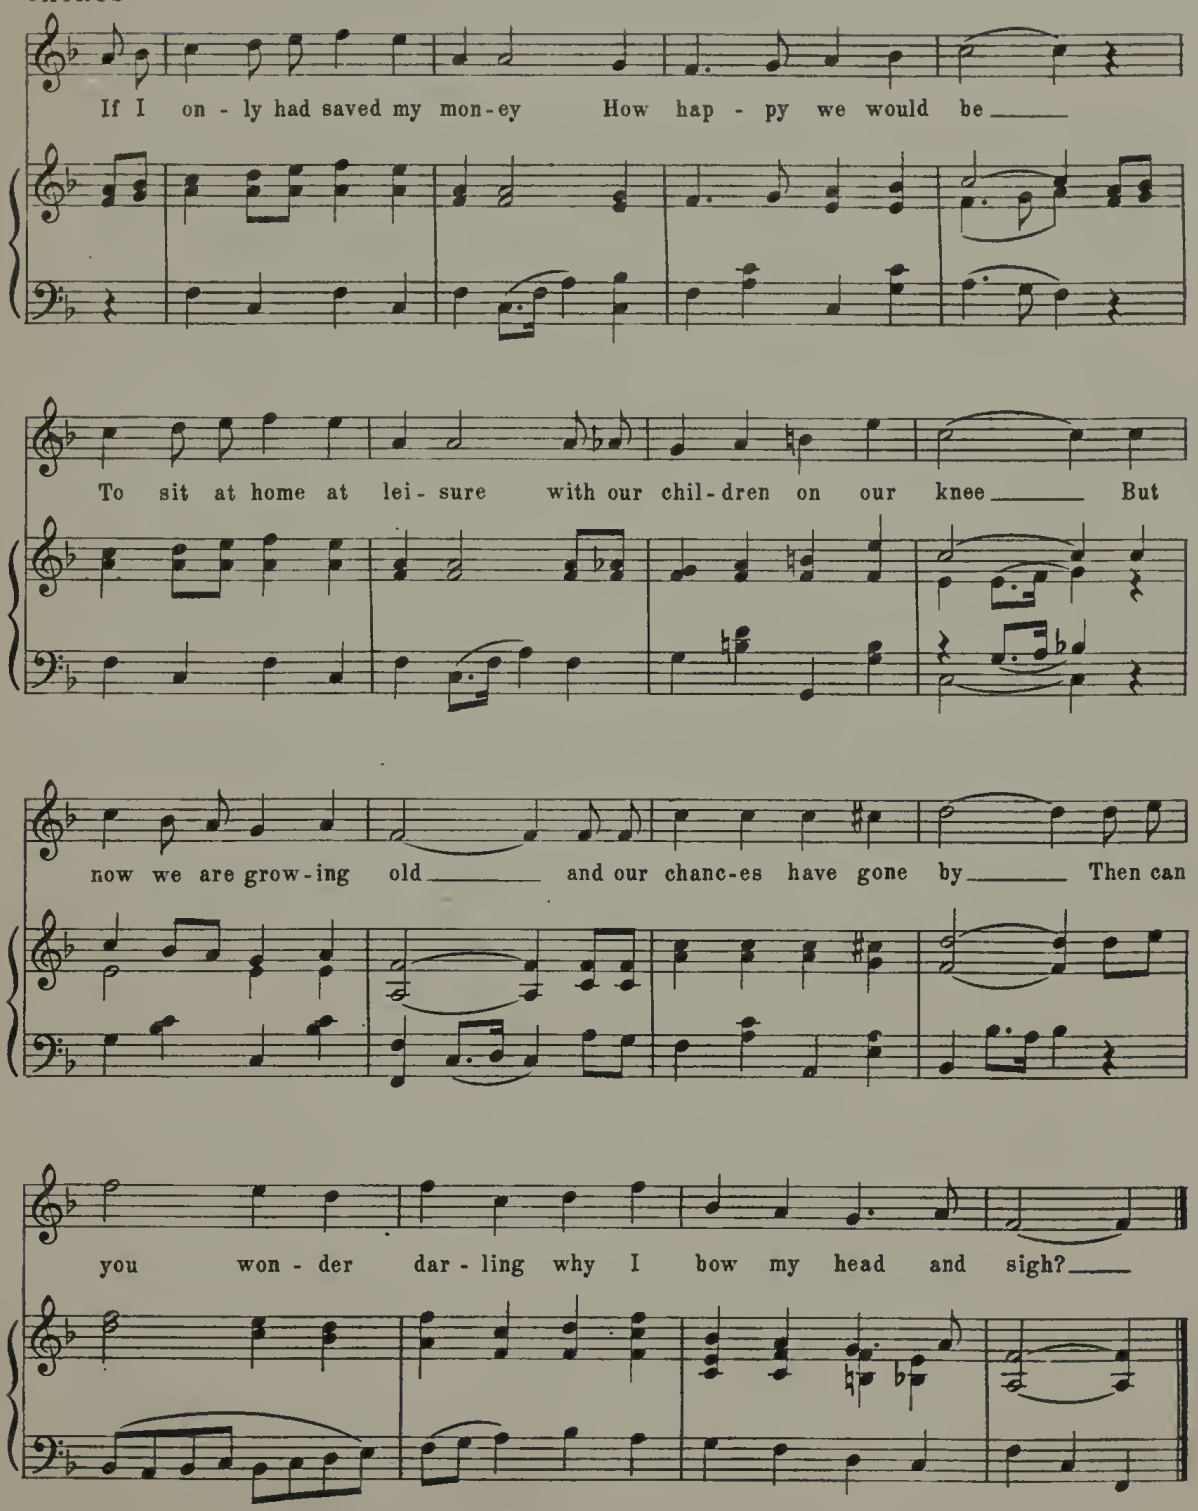
Copyright MCMXXI by F. R. HARVEY.

CHORUS



If I on - ly had saved my mon-ey How hap - py we would be To sit at home at lei - sure with our chil-dren on our knee But now we are grow-ing old and our chanc-es have gone by Then can you won - der dar - ling why I bow my head and sigh?